CARYSIL

welcome CARYSIL in the UK

Now a one stop solution for Surfaces, Sinks and Taps here in the UK we are pleased to exhibit for the first time collectively in partnership with Waterline at the Installershow.

Our products feature the latest materials, design and ease of installation making them ideal for projects within the private home, developer or commercial sector.

As a company we are focused on clean manufacturing, respecting the environment in all we do and with a continuous improvement programme. Our factories work to exacting standards and adopt approved environmental management systems.

Our entire product offer shown here at the Installershow is available nationally via Waterline ex-stock for immediate delivery anywhere in the UK.*

*applies to mainland UK only and for products of a non (bespoke) nature.

environmental respect

We are committed to using natural resources wisely and protecting our environment for the benefit of future generations.

By 2025-2026

CARYSIL aims to generate 65% of the renewable energy used in production from further on-site solar farm investments

CARYSIL has a scholarship programme as we look to invest in the next generation

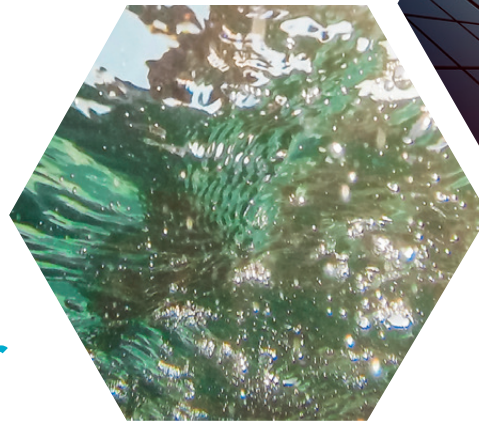

90% reusable water through our Sewage Treatment Plant

Renewable energy is used in the production of our materials

8.54% of renewable energy used in production comes from our on-site solar farm

“CARYSIL adopts and employs a continuous social and environmental improvement programme, caring now and for the future in everything we do”

With over 35 years' experience in supplying solid surface products to the kitchen, bathroom, contract, marine and retail markets we pride ourselves on being one of the largest manufacturers of premium solid surfaces in the UK. Each range is designed with ease of installation in mind. From our simple joint kit solutions and our hand finished surfaces to factory prepared sink modules – everything we do is aimed to make the on-site fitting of solid surface as quick and easy as possible.

Whether the material of choice be solid surface or high pressure compact laminate CARYSIL takes the problem away from the Installer by supplying installer-ready surfaces in colours, textures and sizes to suit all projects.
